Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

INNER LIFE

How kindly we would feel toward others, how tolerant and understanding, did we but know their inner life as we know—to a measure—their outward life. How quick we are to judge another. How ignorant we are of our closest friend!

It is the inner life that is the most important to us all, and which sheds its light furthest. There it is that the choicest feelings of our nation germinate and give birth to beauty, love, nobility, and spiritual grandeur. Said Amiel, in his journal: "The man who has no inner life is the slave of his surroundings, as the barometer is the obedient servant of the air at rest, and the weathercock the humble servant of the air in motion."

That which gave such scope and influence to the late Mahatma Gandhi was the inward life that he lived. And the expression of that life was through the operation of prayer—often in absolute silence. It is within that we live our noblest life, and because of which we are able to give out a light to others that inspires them also to meditation and spiritual refreshment.

Some thirty years ago I heard a Chicago banker state that he never began his day at his bank without retiring to a silent room and offering up a prayer before the day's activities began. I remember his face, and the light that it radiated. His inner life seemed like a benediction to all with whom he came in contact. He is now gone, but his memory is like a star in the sky.

It is this inner life to which God pays attention, and which His Spirit keeps refreshing as we enter into communion with Him. All of our good and genuine acts are reflections of this inner experience. Any kind act, or merely a smile, may be its translation into language that the humblest may understand.

The exterior of a man or woman is no criterion as to his or her beauty or worth. It's what one is in his inner life that is the important thing. There is where the genuine wealth of one is to be discovered. There is where one's heaven is located.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Outlets."

HELP WANTED
Help wanted! When those ads I read,
I wonder what it is they need,
And just what sort of man or boy
The firm is seeking to employ?

Of anyone he thought to hire
I've never heard a man inquire
The lowest score at golf he'd made,
Or if the game of bridge he played.

I'm sure he doesn't care a fig
How well the boy can dance a jig.
This seems to be his chief concern:
How eager is the boy to learn?

Has someone led him to believe
Success is easy to achieve?
Or, will he once a task begun
Stay with it till he gets it done?

WANT ATOMIC ENERGY USES TO BE KNOWN

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Across Washington news desks come big brown envelopes with a name in one corner: Atomic Energy Commission. Most of the time the envelopes contain advance copy of a speech to be delivered somewhere by one of the commission's five members. Often it is a speech by David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the commission.

Lots of Speeches

A check shows that in the last 10 months Lillenthal and the other commissioners have delivered 34 speeches, 13 by Lillenthal. This is a lot of speechmaking by five busy men. But they could make a lot more because they get invitations from all over the country.

They turn down a lot so they can get some work done here. They try to pick out the ones where they can do the most good for their ideas. What ideas? Getting the American public to think about atomic energy, how it can be used for peace and what its use in war means.

For example, Lillenthal this month made a talk to the Radio Executives' club in New York. Why the radio executives? Because he hoped he could get them to put more information about the atom on the air.

Note of Urgency

There seems to be a note of urgency in some of the things Lillenthal says about the need for public information on atomic energy.

For example, he said recently: "What is in the people's minds today about atomic energy is important. But what may be in their minds next year at this time, or two or three years hence, when tensions may have increased, when steady judgment may be essential, depends upon what we do in the meantime."

Besides developing atomic energy for peaceful uses, Lillenthal also is responsible for seeing that atomic weapons are made and stored up. Because of national security and the secrecy involved, in much atomic work, Lillenthal can't say all he knows nor all he thinks.

Need Understanding

But he told the radio executives: "I believe it to be a fact: the only solid hope for preventing the use of atomic energy for destruction on a scale that has not yet been disclosed is for peoples everywhere to understand the atomic world; and to understand thereby the opportunities that lie before us to put this knowledge to uses beneficent and human."

In other speeches he has pointed out the wonderful peacetime uses that can be expected from atomic energy. He has said: "We must make sure that the American people will have a say-so, and decide say-so, in the adjustments these discoveries will bring into community life, in our agricultural, educational, industrial and military institutions."

"You must make dead sure that your public servants in all branches of your government, civil and military, legislative and executive, all understand clearly that atomic energy is your business, the people's business."

PTC Files Increase In Rates With PUC

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—The Philadelphia Transportation Company filed increased fares with the Public Utility commission today to finance a recent wage increase. The increased rates would be effective March 21.

The Utility's petition said the increases were necessary to raise $6,665,000 needed to meet a wage boost of 15 cents an hour and other concessions granted to 11,000 operating employees last week to avert a strike.

The company's new rates called for: 1—A 10 cents cash fare on trolleys and trackless trolleys; 2—A 10 cent cash fare on the subway and elevated lines and on bus lines that have replaced street car lines, and 3—A 12 1/2 cent fare on the basis of two tokens for a quarter on other bus lines.

The present fare is 10 cents, or four tokens for 35 cents on trolley and high speed lines, and 10 cents on regular bus lines.

EIRE STARTS EXPERIMENT IN COALITION RULE

By ROBERT HEWETT

Dublin, Feb. 19 (AP)—Eire began its first experiment in coalition government today, and to most Irishmen that simply meant: "Dev' is out."

But while Eamon De Valera, prime minister since 1932, has been turned out by the Dail (Parliament), he remains a political power in Eire. His Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) party holds 68 Parliament seats, only six short of a majority.

De Valera followers, far from downcast, were predicting the overthrow of the coalition and new elections within the year.

A five-party coalition, apparently recent at De Valera's 16 years in office, joined forces yesterday and elected John A. Costello, 56, a Dublin attorney.

"Time for a Change"
The idea of an Irish government without the mystical, New York-born De Valera, was still a little strange for many Irishmen. Most politicians agreed there would be little immediate change in Irish life under Costello's coalition.

The quiet, cautious new prime minister is leader of the conservative Fine Gael (united Irish) party.

Ever since Eire broke away from Britain in 1921 it has been ruled by a single party government.

"It's time for a change!" was the rallying cry of anti-De Valera groups. The change has come—and now the question is whether the five different parties can carry out a common program. In the five are the conservative Fine Gael and the Lusty, Liberal Clann Na Poblachta (Republicans) under fiery Sean MacBride.

PUC Cab Decision Not To Be Probed

Harrisburg, Feb. 19 (AP)—The state legislature's fact-finding agency has decided not to investigate a Public Service commission decision, denying taxicab franchises to 96 Philadelphia veterans.

Guy Davis, counsel for the joint state government commission, announced yesterday the agency does not intend to investigate the PUC's action at this time.

The agency had received a resolution from the Philadelphia Veterans of Foreign Wars executive committee, calling for investigation of "all relevant facts and circumstances" of what it termed the "manifestly unfair, and unwarranted decision of the PUC."

Davis said, however, that the group "will make an elaborate study" of all administrative agencies of the state government under power delegated by the legislature. Included will be Public Utility, Milk Control, Game, and Fish commissions, the State Liquor Control board and the Licensing bureau of the Department of Public Instruction.

Pa. School Leaders Urge Consolidation

State College, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania school leaders called for consolidation of commonwealth schools with the county as the basic unit.

This plan was proposed yesterday at the closing session of a conference of County Superintendents' association. It was presented in line with a new 1947 law calling for reorganization of school districts to improve teaching facilities and cut down school costs.

The association said in a resolution that use of the county as the basis for any consolidation plan would be more efficient and more economical.

NO SIGN OF END TO 'COLD WAR' WITH RUSSIANS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Secretary of State Marshall says that so far as he knows there's nothing in reports that the Russians have been putting out peace feelers in Berlin for a settlement of the "cold war" with the U. S. A.

Well, if the general doesn't know about them it's a safe bet there haven't been any, because he would be about the first man informed of any such momentous development. As a matter of fact it's hard to see what possible basis there could be for thinking Moscow was making peace overtures.

Why should Russia want peace? By waging a carefully planned "cold war" of aggression (and sometimes not so cold, at that) she has brought virtually all of eastern Europe and part of central Europe under Soviet domination. At the same time she has extended her influence over Manchuria and a great section of northern China, and just now has virtually annexed northern Korea.

Not Seeking Peace
Meantime in other countries, not excluding the United States, Soviet agents and native adherents to the cult of the clenched fist have been giving demonstrations of what Communistic intensive organization can do. So, taking it the world around, the Bolsheviks would seem to have done fairly well for themselves—on paper. Why, then, should they sud-

Says Seaway Would Aid Fuel Shortage

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Rep. Kilburn (R-NY) said today that the St. Lawrence seaway and power project would have prevented "much suffering" this winter in the north-east.

"The people in my district," Kilburn said, "are suffering from one denly sue for peace?

It is true that in Europe the Communist drive has slowed down to a crawl. However, this is due to the fact that Moscow already has taken over all the countries in which it had armed forces and thus is in complete control.

But we have a far different picture in the Orient. Russian fighting forces are widely scattered in strategic positions which must encourage Moscow to believe that the Soviet has a good chance of bringing Manchuria and northern China within its orbit of control, along with northern Korea.

No, I don't believe Moscow is suing for peace. It might well be that the Soviet Union will reach a point where, for a change, it will be willing to make a concession here and there. However, such concessions won't be for altruistic reasons but to provide easement for Russia in some situation that is worrying her.

Communism is out to destroy "capitalism" and establish totalitarianism everywhere—period.

of the coldest winters in years. Their sufferings have been aggravated by shortages of power, oil and heat."

Kilburn, whose district embraces one of the coldest sections of up-state New York, said construction of the seaway and power development "is one step we can take" to prevent such future shortages.

The power development, he said in a statement, would provide New York and New England with a "vast amount" of cheap hydroelectric energy for heat, power and light purposes.

"In view of our present and prospective shortages of oil and coal we must now take steps to alleviate such conditions. Completion of the St. Lawrence project is an immediate and feasible step which can and must be taken now," Kilburn said.

FUEL CRISIS PAST

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Eastern Seaboard's fuel oil shortage has been eased for the rest of the winter, the petroleum industry's regional advisory committee says. Describing the once-critical situation in the area as now "over the hump," the committee yesterday attributed the changed picture to increased transportation facilities, a shift in refinery output with greater emphasis on heating oil, and the current mild weather.

New York (AP)—From 1940 to 1947 the population of U. S. Pacific Coast states increased about 40 per cent.

Taft Defeat Heads Labor's 'Must' List

Cleveland, Feb. 19 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's National Legislative agent, Lewis Hines, names these two as the most important issues confronting organized labor:

(1) Defeat of Senator Robert A. Taft if he becomes the Republican Presidential nominee.

(2) Repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Describing himself as a Republican wheelhorse in Philadelphia, Hines said last night before the Cleveland Federation of Labor that "Taft's election would drive this country into Communism."

U.S. FAR AHEAD IN PHOTOGRAPHY

Fort Monmouth, N. J., Feb. 19 (AP)—The United States is "years ahead" in development of photographic lenses.

The Army Signal Corps said this yesterday in revealing a million dollar collection of lenses, requisitioned by the American First Army from the famous Carl Zeiss plant at Jena, Germany, after the war in Europe is under study at the Signal Corps center here.

Samples of all models ever produced at the Zeiss plant, once leader of the world in lens-making, are included in the collection.

Edward K. Kaprelian, chief of the photographic branch of the Army's Signal Corps Engineering laboratories, said, "study of the lenses and files from the Zeiss plant have put the United States years ahead in the development of lenses."

"The collection is as valuable for showing us what not to work on as what to do," Kaprelian said.

Included in the collection is a camera which will photograph a building 25 miles away. It produces a picture as clear and close as a snapshot of your house.

The Zeiss plant is in the Soviet occupation zone of Germany. Removal by the U. S. of "a trainload" of lenses from the Zeiss museum was protested some time ago by the Russians. The U. S. said payment will be made for the requisitioned lenses.

STEAL WHISKEY

Chinese Reds Enter City In Manchuria

Peiping, Feb. 19 (AP)—Chinese Communists today fought into Anshan and fall of that important Manchurian steel city seemed certain.

Government dispatches said the Reds broke into the city in "overwhelming numbers." Small groups of defenders were making a last ditch stand inside the city—whose output once fed the Japanese war machine.

The bulk of Anshan's troops was reported driven into the northwestern suburb, where fighting was raging.

Anshan was a prime target for American B-29 bombers in the last stages of the Pacific war. Later, during the Russian occupation, much of the city's key machinery was removed. When Chinese troops moved in, they found the city down at the heels. It hasn't produced much steel since because of lack of machinery.

of lasting beauty." The local woman has also designed some original sales items which are now being used by the National Weavers' Guild.

Mrs. Gallinger was a week-end guest of Dr. Doris Cochran, assistant curator of the Smithsonian Institute. She was presented with a reproduction of the famous "Franz" weaving book, written over 100 years ago, and put into modern print by Dr. Pariseau, of Bethesda, Md.

Chile Establishes Second Military Base In Antarctic In Defiance Of Britain

PRES. VIDELA RETURNS AFTER DOUBLE MISSION

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Santiago, Chile, Feb. 19 (AP)—Chilean President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla headed home today after formally setting up two military bases in disputed Antarctic territory—which he called a "land of tomorrow."

The bases were established at Chilean weather stations in defiance of long-time British claims, recently reiterated.

Gonzalez inaugurated the first on Tuesday at the weather station at Port Sovereignty on Greenwich Island in the South Shetlands, some 560 miles south of the southern tip of South America.

Ceremony Described
He dedicated the second yesterday at another weather station, 60 miles to the south, on a peninsula of the Antarctic continent known to Chile as O'Higgins Land and to Britain as Graham Land. Bernardo O'Higgins, a Chilean patriot of Irish extraction, was the first chief of state of independent Chile.

Dispatches to this Chilean capital told of the ceremony. The corvette Covadonga anchored among icebergs. The President went ashore with other officials, 20 army cadets, 20 midshipmen and a navy band.

Then, standing amid snow and ice, he said his presence was "one more confirmation of Chile's sovereignty over the extreme south of its national soil." He called the land below South America Chile's by right of "history, geography and law." He said she claimed it by inheritance from the Spanish crown, nearness and occupation.

See UN Angle
Chile, Argentina and Great Britain hold overlapping claims to pie-shaped sections of Antarctica and South Atlantic Islands to the Argentina and Britain both claim the British-administered Falkland Islands and their dependencies. Britain has sent the cruiser Nigeria from South Africa to the Falklands to "show the flag." Argentine naval vessels are en route to maneuvers in the same area.

Chile and Argentina agreed last July to try for a boundary settlement where their claims overlapped.

Argentina wants to settle her dispute with Britain through a conference. Britain may take the matter to the International Court of Justice but would like to settle it privately. A British spokesman at Lake Success, N. Y., has said she may have to take it instead before the United Nations Security Council.

CIO Steelworkers To Ask Pay Raise

Pittsburgh, Feb. 19 (AP)—The CIO-United Steelworkers will ask the steel industry for a "substantial wage increase" and a social insurance program.

The announcement, made at the end of a one-day meeting of the union's 175-man wage and policy committee, fixed no figure for the sought-for raise.

START PROBE OF OLD B&L ASSET SALES

Philadelphia, Feb. 19 (AP)—State Banking department investigators today began a widespread probe into the sale of closed Building and Loan Association assets to speculators.

The inquiry—ordered by State Banking Secretary D. Emmert Brumbaugh after a conference with Governor James H. Duff—came in response to growing reports that thousands of Philadelphians are being "dunned" for payment of depression era debts.

Six banking department investigators—headed by Director Horace H. Eschbach of the department's Building and Loan bureau—began collecting documents from Philadelphians who complained they have been pushed for payment of debts contracted during the depression years of the 1930's.

Asks Grand Jury Probe
The Philadelphia Inquirer today carried an editorial on page one urging an immediate grand jury probe of the situation.

Both Brumbaugh and State Attorney General T. McKeen Childsey, the Inquirer said, have pledged their support in the investigation of what the newspaper described as "attempts to cash in on 20-year old debts found among Building and Loan association assets."

A spokesman for the investigating group said that the first step would be to "run down all facts concerning these new claims," while at the same time some of the probes would be assigned to check all phases of the liquidation proceedings.

Calls For Exposure
Brumbaugh, in an earlier statement, said he feels "that if there is any self-serving interest, whereby an individual profited unfairly through inside information to the distress of many unfortunate people, it should be exposed."

The Inquirer editorial said in

MISSOURI VOTE FRAUD PROBE IS BEING REVIVED

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—A Senate investigation of Democratic vote fraud charges in President Truman's own Missouri stamping grounds showed new signs of life today.

The charges arose in connection with a primary in the fifth Missouri Congressional district in 1946. These were the developments today:

1. A judiciary subcommittee prepared to question the FBI man who handled the case. He now is a Federal judgeship nominee.
2. Senator Kem predicted that a new investigating committee will take a look at how the Justice Department dealt with alleged voting irregularities in Kansas City precincts. Kem claims the department "whitewashed" the case.
3. 66 indicted and freed. A grand jury indicted 66 persons, but they were freed last January 28 after ballots held for evidence were stolen.
4. The fifth is not President Truman's own Congressional district, but he took a hand in the 1946 campaign. He endorsed Enos Axtell

Wants Women As 'Regulars' In Army

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.) predicted today the House will approve a bill to let women become regulars in the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

He told reporters the Armed Services committee will send such a measure to the House before the end of the month. "I know of no opposition to it," Shafer added.

The Senate passed a bill last July for the nomination over Rep. Roger Slaughter. Axtell defeated Slaughter but lost the election to Republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

Kem tried to get the Senate judiciary committee to investigate the primary last July. He failed when Senator Langer (R-ND) joined Democrats in voting against Kem's proposal. Kem then asked the Senate to overrule the judiciary committee. Democrats talked that idea to death in the closing days of the regular session.

Senator Donnell (R-Mo) is chairman of the judiciary subcommittee considering the nomination of Edward Allen Tamm, assistant FBI director, to be a federal judge in the District of Columbia. Tamm is opposed by the local bar association and a committee of the American Bar Association on grounds that he has never had any trial court experience.

to establish a permanent Women's Army corps and permit the Navy to take in women as regulars. It did not include the Air Force, which was then a part of the Army. An Armed Services subcommittee headed by Shafer plans to include the air arm in its version.

Official military support of the plan is unanimous. Witnesses before the Shafer group yesterday included Secretary of Defense Forrestal, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Omar Bradley, and Hoyt S. Vandenberg, and Admiral Louis Denfeld.

Seaman Sues For $15,000 Damages

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—A seaman has filed suit in Federal court for $15,000 damage against the government for injuries allegedly suffered while on duty at sea aboard the SS America Lykes.

Robert A. Smith, Milton, charged in the suit, filed yesterday, that he was injured when struck by heavy seas. He said the government was negligent and alleged the vessel was not seaworthy. The accident, he said, occurred February 20, 1946.

CRITICS ASSAIL TRUMAN DEMAND FOR CHINA HELP

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—President Truman's plan to give China a $570,000,000 economic shot in the arm raised a cry of too little and too late in Congress today.

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) said the civil strife in China has passed the point where "mere economic help" will be enough.

"We should furnish military supplies to enable the Nationalist government (of Chiang Kai-shek) to use the equipment we have already given them," the New Hampshire lawmaker told a reporter. He added: "The expenditure of many billions of dollars to halt the spread of Communist forces in Europe makes little sense if at the same time this government allows China to go to the Communists by default."

Hearings Friday

Bridges is chairman of the Senate Appropriations committee which will have a big say over how much money China is to get and how it is to be spent. However, the first official look at the Chinese aid program is shaping up on the other side of the Capitol.

The House Foreign Affairs committee announced that it will start hearings on the subject tomorrow. The committee is still working on European recovery legislation, but plans to start writing a foreign aid bill, or bills, by March 2.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee has just finished work on a $5,300,000,000 Marshall Plan measure for Europe. But there was no immediate word when it will take up the China matter.

Mr. Truman confined his message to the economic aspects of China's troubles. He asked no military help.

Emmitsburg—Mr. and Mrs. J. Eckenrode and son, Charles, Jr., moved on Monday from their home on West Main street to a newly purchased home at College Park, Md. Mr. Eckenrode is employed in Washington.

Installation of a new gas stove in the kitchen at the fire engine house has completed the work of remodeling the kitchen, officials of the company announced today.

Mrs. Charles E. Shorb, and son Robert, and George Ashbaugh spent the week at Beltsville, Md., visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones.

Mrs. Halbert Poole, Jr., and daughters, Virginia and Molly of Potomac, Md., and Mrs. Carrie Hartzell and Mrs. John Bollinger spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bollinger.

Miss Grace Rowe, Washington, spent several days this week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxell, West Main street, accompanied Mrs. Daisy Moser and daughter, Mildred, of Gettysburg to Frederick Sunday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Remberg.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch of New York is spending an indefinite length of time at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. B. J. Eckenrode.

20 MEMBERS OF VFW NAMED AS AMBULANCE MEN

Twenty members of the Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars post have been named as drivers or assistants for the new ambulance purchased for the community by the Emmitsburg veterans. The vehicle is to arrive in Emmitsburg Friday afternoon, according to the dealer in Washington from whom it was purchased.

Two members of the post, Lumen P. Norris and Thomas Gingell, have been named as maintenance men for the ambulance which will be kept in the fire engine house when not in use.

According to present plans, two men will be with the ambulance at all times when it is in use, one man to act as driver and the other as an assistant, to aid with the carrying and handling of the patient and to be ready at all times to give what aid he can.

To Learn First Aid
The list includes George Green, Richard Harner, Regis Miller, Harold Hoke, Clyde Eiler, John Payne, Gerald Ryder, Fred Bower, John

Garner, Gretna Kielholtz, J. K. Stoner, Louis Stoner, C. E. Rowe, William Payne, Bill Garner, Joseph Boyle, Vernon Kielholtz, Fern Ohler, Donald Byard and Leroy Baker.

All members of the driving corps are to receive instruction in first aid.

A letter is being prepared to be sent all residents of Emmitsburg and the surrounding territory telling them of the arrival of the ambulance and inviting them to use it at any time it may be needed, free of charge. Those who may need the ambulance after its arrival are to call Emmitsburg 198 day or night. That telephone number will reach the Emmitsburg VFW home during most of the day and night, while arrangements are being made with the telephone operator to automatically call one of the members during the hours the post is closed.

Fully Equipped
The ambulance was purchased from the Watson Automotive Equipment company, Washington, D. C., at a cost of $6,700. The "Superior Cadillac Ambulance" is provided with an oxygen inhalator and other equipment for care of the patient en route to the hospital.

Workers today were engaged in placing extra braces under the floor of the fire hall in order to prepare the structure for the ambulance.

GINGELL NAMED PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL CLUB

George Gingell has been elected president of the board of directors of the Emmitsburg baseball team at a reorganization session held Monday night at the firemen's hall.

Named as vice president was Norman Flax. Allen Bouey is secretary and Herbert Rogers, treasurer.

The organization was effected following a meeting Sunday afternoon at the fire hall at which Dr. W. R. Cadle, George F. Rosensteel, Leonard Zimmerman, Harold Holtz, George Gingell, Herbert Roger, Norman Flax, John J. Hollinger, Guy Baker, Bernard H. Boyle, Allen Bouey, and Ray McGlaughlin were named directors.

George Rosensteel was elected by the directors to manage the team, but his formal installation as manager will not take place until March 1 when a meeting will be held at 7 o'clock in the fire hall to set up committees for the coming season.

No decision was made immediately on whether the team will take part in the Adams County League season as it has in past years. The squad has already been signed to participate in the Penn-Maryland loop, but the action it will take in regards to the Adams county league will depend upon the number of games the county circuit plans to play. Members of the board said they did not wish to take part in such a long season as is customary with the Adams loopers. If the Adams season is not too long the group will probably join it.

RURAL TELEPHONE PROGRESS IN 1946-47
12,400 more rural Maryland families provided with telephone service (total now more than 49,000)
$2,400,000 spent for rural construction and equipment
10,000 new poles placed
9,000 miles of wire strung
Plus hundreds of thousands of feet of cable added
PLANS FOR 1948-49
16,000 more telephones in rural areas
$4,000,000 for new rural construction
40 new dial offices to serve rural areas, which includes replacement of 20 exchanges now served by old-fashioned crank-type telephones
Improvements in service:
Replacement of crank-type telephones
Reduction of number of parties on rural lines
Improved ringing systems for many multi-party lines

As you can see, we're making real progress on our program for extending and improving rural telephone service.

It's a big job, but we're working hard to bring better service to more people in the rural sections of Maryland.

WHY PRE-FABS HAVE FAILED TO NEAR GOAL

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—A group in Congress says we must turn out houses as we do automobiles to get the millions we need. Can we do it? The suggestion came from a recent report. But it isn't new. Many have been saying for years that home building is generally chaotic, backward, tied hand and foot with restrictions. Builders usually disagree, but the critics keep on talking.

What have we done toward mass-producing houses?

Did Little Before War
Up to Pearl Harbor, in 1941, we did little. War created a record housing demand and factory-built or prefabricated homes helped fill it. For the first time, they were produced in large numbers.

The postwar period offered even greater opportunity. Returning veterans wanted houses—by the hundreds of thousands.

Wilson Wyatt became the President's housing expediter. He mapped a two-year program to erect 2,700,000 houses in 1946 and 1947. Of this total, 850,000 were supposed to be factory-built. Here was the prefabricator's chance to get rolling.

Far Short of Goal
Altogether, prefabricators made 74,000 houses in a span when they had been asked to produce 850,000. Last year they turned out only 37,000 of the 833,000 homes completed in the United States.

Why haven't prefabricators produced more when housing needs are so great and critics say machine-made houses are the answer?

Builders, government housing officials and bankers seem agreed that the story goes something like this: The industry was asked to do too much, considering its experience. It was like sending a boy on a man's job.

Shortages hit prefabricators worse than other builders. Materials must flow evenly to keep assembly lines going. House manufacturers lacked good contacts with suppliers. Ancient city building codes often prevented use of new materials that have helped prefabricators by-pass the problem.

Costs Not Lower
Factory-made houses were supposed to be cheaper to buy. In practice they usually were not. The reasons:

1. It takes volume output to bring savings through factory methods. Prefabricators never got into volume.

2. High material costs plagued them then as they did other builders.

3. House manufacturers didn't make enough of the house in the factory. The congressional committee found most produced around 60 per cent in their plant. Costly items like plumbing, heating and wiring were left to the field. Building codes and labor union rules often were blamed for this situation.

4. Houses were sold through dealer-builders, who took their own profit on them.

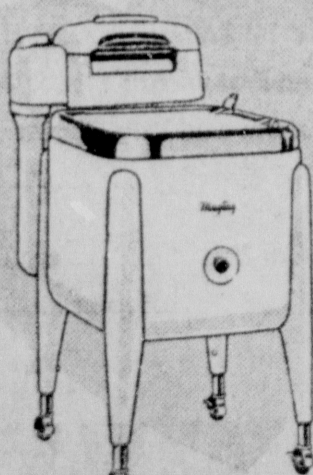

Laundry Drivers On Strike In Phila.

Philadelphia, Feb. 19 (AP)—A strike of 1,500 drivers at 85 major laundries began today in Philadelphia. The drivers, members of Local 187 of the AFL-Teamsters Union, voted to walkout following a collapse in negotiations for a five-day week, a two per cent increase in commissions and $3 more pay a week.

The men now have a 14 per cent scale on commissions and have a basic weekly wage of $13. Their average weekly pay was not immediately available.

While saying the strike was officially on as the result of a strike vote at 1 a. m. (EST) James J. Stoltz, secretary-treasurer of the local, said drivers would continue to deliver finished laundry today through Saturday until plants are empty of work now in process.

Sumacs Are Desirable Shrubs

Farmers who are acquainted with the wild shrub known simply as sumac may disagree with the title of this article until they learn that this large group of plants include such fine ornamental species as Fragrant Sumac and Fern-leaved Sumac. When either of these species is once seen in their full beauty of leaf, either during the summer or after they turn to a brilliant show in the fall, to know them is to desire them.

Perhaps it is necessary sooner or later to tell the bad news along with the good—a true story of "beauty and the beast." For it is to the same genus of plants as these ornamental shrubs belong that we go to find poison-ivy and poison-oak. The genus name is Rhus. Poison-ivy is better classified as R. toxicodendron and poison-oak (the true western shrub) as R. diversiloba. The other poisonous species, sometimes called White Sumac or poison-sumac, is actually listed as R. vernix. Botanists agree that the common name of poison-oak cannot be correctly applied to either poison-ivy or the so-called poison-sumac. But home owners need have no apprehension about the ornamental species of this genus. They are not only safe from any poisonous qualities, but they are truly fine plants to add to the shrub border or to use in clumps or as individual plantings. Two usually listed in nursery catalogues are particularly desirable—the fern-leaved sort, R. typhina laciniata and the fragrant species, R. aromatica. Prospective growers will understand that the editor is indulging in these somewhat difficult botanical names only because distinction can be indicated by no other means.

The native sumac is usually R. glabra, often called smooth sumac. In some parts of the north the wild species is R. copallina, slightly more dwarf than R. glabra. Either of these wild shrubs makes a fairly attractive group or border plant, especially in autumn when their displays of both fruit and red foliage add color to the surroundings.

Most botanists recognize Rhus cotinus, better known as Smoke-tree, as a separate genus, correctly classified as Cotinus and not as Rhus. It, too, is a desirable shrub.

Sumacs are among the eleven popular ornamental shrubs which prefer spring planting to late fall planting. In fact, growers should order plants soon for March 1 delivery and set them out after that date as soon as soil and weather conditions permit.

This genus likes good drainage. This fact is so intimately related to sumac culture that growers generally associate sumacs with sites too dry for most other shrubs. And this is true, although plenty of moisture is not resented. But in case of drought the sumacs usually continue in full display of their vigor and beauty. Therefore, sumacs may be given exposed banks and other similar places where dryness is a common deterrent to other plants.

It is advisable to keep the root mass moist and to protect the roots from long exposure to sun and wind before and during planting operations. Plenty of rich garden or fence row loam under and around the roots will help insure good drainage and at the same time supply nourishment to the spreading roots. Fortunately sumacs are subject to few diseases or insect enemies.

Oil production at record heights but your help still essential

7 REASONS WHY OIL CONSUMPTION IS NOW AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH!

MORE CARS, TRUCKS, BUSES

Today, more cars, trucks and buses are on the road than ever before. Huge quantities of fuel and lubricants are consumed daily.

MORE OIL BURNERS

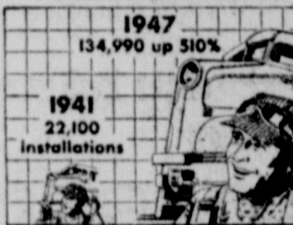

Oil is clean, efficient, economical heating. More homes, schools and hospitals install oil burners. The average home consumes approximately 1750 gallons per year.

MORE FARM MACHINERY

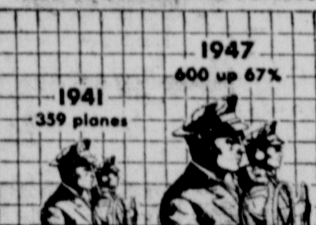

New equipment used by the nation's farmers demands large quantities of petroleum. In the mid-west alone, farm use of oil products has nearly doubled since 1941.

MORE DIESEL ENGINES

More and more trains are now moved by diesel engines... use petroleum products to provide power for the roads of steel.

MORE COMMERCIAL PLANES

Giant airliners consume vast amounts of petroleum. Special fuels and lubricants are required. A four-engine plane uses from 200 to 350 gallons every hour it's in the air.

MORE INDUSTRIAL USAGE

As industry steps up production, demand for heavy fuel oil, industrial lubricants and dozens of other petroleum products grows bigger and bigger.

MORE MILITARY NEEDS

Tremendous quantities of petroleum are required by our Army and Navy. For without petroleum, planes cannot fly... jeeps cannot move... ships cannot sail.

HERE'S WHY

You Must Save Fuel Oil Now

Unless we all save as much fuel oil as possible, there may not be enough to keep our homes, schools and public buildings warm through the winter.

This is true even though more oil products are being produced and delivered today than ever before! Faced with the greatest demand in history, production is up to new record heights, and crude oil is being rushed to refineries and then to you. But there may not be enough to go around, unless every user saves as much as he can now. The oil industry is spending over 4 billion dollars to meet your needs. New sources of supply are being uncovered... right now we are importing more oil than we are exporting... refinery and distribution facilities are being expanded... newer, faster methods of transportation are being provided.

But this expansion takes time. The oil industry, like so many others, faces difficulties in obtaining the necessary materials.

Save as much fuel oil, kerosene and gasoline as you can. If everyone cooperates there will be enough for all.

HERE'S HOW

To Save Money... Save Fuel Oil...
Help Stretch the Supply

1. Keep temperature at moderate level—not more than 68 degrees. Turn thermostat to 60 or below at night.
2. Keep doors, windows closed, shades drawn. Close off unused rooms.
3. Install storm windows and insulation to keep heat in... cold out.
4. Be sure to have your heating system checked to be sure you're getting the most efficient use of your fuel oil.

If everyone cooperates, the current "pinch" need not last too long. As soon as it is humanly possible, there'll be enough oil for all your needs. And the greater your cooperation the sooner that day will be.

If everyone saves... there will be enough for all.

UMW OFFICIAL OPPOSES GAS PIPE LINE PLAN

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—The use of natural gas in coal-consuming markets "will hasten return to the chaotic conditions that existed in the coal industry during the last decade," says Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers.

Kennedy, former Pennsylvania Lieutenant Governor, said at a power commission hearing yesterday that one man loses his job for every ton of coal lost in production. Kennedy appeared to oppose the piping of natural gas into Pennsylvania. The commission is considering an application by the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line company to construct a line from Texas to the New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware area.

Up To Coal and Gas
Kennedy said jobs would be closely affected by the introduction of gas into the eastern seaboard region because so many workers are engaged in coal production and shipment. In Pennsylvania's anthracite area alone, he said, a million persons are dependent on the coal industry.

George Lamb, manager of business surveys for the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., told the commission current information indicates petroleum "has approximated its maximum as far as furnishing of energy products are concerned."

This information, he said, shows that the task of supplying energy to the nation must fall to coal and natural gas. Of these, he added, a study by the U. S. Bureau of Mines

Boy, 4, Drowns; Companion Saved

Benton, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—Four-year-old Lawrence Leroy Spencer was drowned but his five-year-old companion, Harry Ackerman, Jr., was saved through the prompt action of another five-year-old.

Lawrence Leroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Spencer of this Columbia county community, broke through the thin ice of Fishing creek yesterday. County Coroner John Evans said he died of suffocation due to drowning.

Shows that coal reserves are far greater.

The Ackerman boy was saved by his father after Sheila Harrison ran a quarter-mile to summon Harry Ackerman, Sr.

DEMOCRATS ARE WARNED ABOUT WALLACE WIN

By HAL COOPER

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee raised an out and out distress signal today in the face of the Henry A. Wallace third party drive.

Chairman J. Howard McGrath said he hopes Wallace will "realize that he can accomplish nothing but the defeat of the Democratic party's program of practical liberalism in 1948." McGrath virtually appealed for abandonment of the Wallace campaign in a radio speech last night.

The address followed McGrath's frank admission that the victory of a Wallace-backed candidate in Tuesday's New York congressional election is a big danger sign for the Democrats.

"Solid South" Trouble

Wallace, on a speech-making tour of the south, gave no indication that he plans to heed any call to "come home, all is forgiven."

Instead he announced at Miami Beach that his supporters have obtained 464,000 signatures on a petition to put his name on the primary election ballot in California. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state by only 475,000 votes in 1944.

Meanwhile the row between National Democratic leaders and party members in the "solid south" flared up again in Washington. A group of southerners cancelled their reservations for the big $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinners tonight where prominent Democrats will rally around President Truman.

No Segregation

The issue was one which has brought a chorus of rebel yells from south of the Mason-Dixon line in recent weeks: the color line.

Mrs. Olin D. Johnston, wife of the South Carolina senator, said she decided not to attend the dinner "because I might be seated next to a negro." She said her party of 45 had dwindled to around 30 because some of the others felt the same way.

McGrath told reporters a dozen or more negroes planned to attend the two dinners here. He said he could not order any segregation.

Concern Over Wallace

McGrath showed deep concern over the Wallace threat in his radio address. He said he thinks Wallace himself is "sincere" enough, but added: "I hope that Henry Wallace will realize that unscrupulous forces who look to Moscow for inspiration and guidance see in his candidacy a chance to disrupt the normal activities of our two party system, and bring about the chaos and confusion of splinter parties that has sent so many nations into governmental collapse."

"I hope that Henry Wallace will repudiate the supporters of his cause whose only real hope is that they can defeat the Democratic party's program of practical liberalism in 1948 and turn the government over to reactionaries and isolationists."

Earlier in the day McGrath had said the Democratic party will make a "grave mistake if it does not learn

SIX STATES SEE "BALL OF FIRE" IN NIGHT SKIES

Kansas City, Feb. 19 (AP)—Observers today sought further explanation of a strange "ball of fire," possibly a disintegrating meteor, seen in six states.

The brilliant explosion thousands of feet in the air was observed in Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Colorado yesterday.

Oscar Monnig, secretary of the National Meteorological Society, said at Fort Worth, Tex., he felt sure the fire ball was a meteor disintegrating. Officials of the Chamberlain observatory at the University of Denver, however, could offer no explanation. Director A. W. Recht said there was "no meteor shower and no other known phenomena in the sky to explain it."

At the University of Nebraska, Professor of Astronomy Oliver C. Collins said "it might very well have been a meteor."

and state highway patrol officials received reports of flaming plane crashes from widely scattered points. All reports proved groundless.

Newspaper offices also received numerous calls from observers. C. L. Jacoby, editor of the Norton (Kas.) Daily Telegram, said a number of callers asked excitedly if an atomic bomb had exploded. The explosion, Jacoby reported, rattled windows in a 35 mile area in northwest Kansas. He said it occurred at 4:50 p. m. central standard time.

A large white cloud was visible in the sky for an hour after the flash, some observers said.

DISMISS COMPLAINT

Harriburg, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today dismissed a petition of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp., Brackenridge, complaining of high railroad rates. The steel firm described as "unreasonable" rates charged by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the Pennsylvania railroad and five other roads for shipping artificially bonded molding sand in open-top cars.

U.S. STATEHOOD POSSIBLE FOR ALASKA SOON

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—In Congress Alaska has been given its first push toward statehood.

That doesn't mean it will become a state this year or next. But any push in that direction is more than it's had before.

Alaska, twice the size of Texas, has a population of about 90,000—60,000 whites and 30,000 Eskimos and Indians.

It's 89 times bigger than Hawaii which has a 500,000 population. Hawaii may have a better chance of getting statehood this year. That's partly because the House has approved Hawaiian statehood. Now it's up to the Senate. Neither House nor Senate has acted on Alaska. But Monday a House subcommittee recommended that Alaska be a state.

Senate May Balk
All that's needed to make Alaska a state is an okay by both houses. But the Senate may not approve, even if the House does.

The Senate has a busy year. None of its committees has held hearings on Alaska. And, besides, the Senators may think twice about this: Statehood means Alaska's 90,000 people would have two senators in Congress, the same as, say, New York state's 13,000,000 people. Since the Senate has only 96 members now, two more would be important in any close vote.

Alaska would be entitled to one representative in the House. But since there are 435 House members, one more wouldn't make much difference.

The United States bought Alaska from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000.

In 1912 Congress made Alaska a territory. Which meant the President appointed a governor and the people could elect their own legislature, house and senate. And the territory has a delegate to Congress. He can't vote, but he represents the people of Alaska.

Output of industry runs over $70,000,000 a year. It's concentrated mainly in three businesses: Fur, fishing, mostly salmon, and mining—gold, coal, platinum.

The people pay federal income taxes but Alaska has no income taxes of its own, for persons or corporations, and no general property tax.

The territory has one railroad, owned by the U. S. Government. It was opened in 1923. As a territory, Alaska is subject to the whims of Congress which can pass any law it wishes about Alaska. As a state, Alaska would have to be treated by Congress as any other state.

The subcommittee says other ter-

DEMOCRATS TO GATHER AGAIN

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Democratic leaders will try again today to select party candidates for auditor general and state treasurer.

The commonwealth's top Democrats met for two and one-half hours in the Mayflower hotel last night without reaching a decision.

J. Warren Mickle, state Democratic chairman, told reporters after the conference some party members were unable to attend. He declined to mention names "because it might be misleading" but said they are expected in town for the ritories were able to raise money to pay their way when they became states so there's no reason why Alaska couldn't.

meeting at 2 p. m., today.

Mickle said State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black was the only candidate for auditor general whose name was before the party bigwigs last night. He added there may be others proposed today.

Candidates for state treasurer discussed were Frank A. Boylan, executive assistant to Auditor General G. Harold Wagner; State Senator William J. Lane of Washington county and Joseph Lawler of Lackawanna county, third assistant postmaster general.

"They're all in the running," Mickle said.
